I can be on a conference call tomorrow night for the CAG meeting. If you think that the time is not the best, I suggest we wait to publish the notice until the week of January 5.

Subject: VB/I-70 Deletion Timing

Hi. I have a couple of concerns about the timing of this NOID.

1. The CAG will be having their December meeting Tuesday, Dec. 18. Neither of you can attend. I can be there (lucky me) but they know that I am communications and not the project decision maker. Undoubtedly, they will want to discuss the NOID. We will need someone there who can speak with detail and authority on the NOID process, and the site RI and risk assessments. Someone will need to convey our message that the data does not indicate contamination remains at depth and why we know that. Steve, do you have any ideas for someone who could attend to fill that role?
2. Assuming that Doug signs the NOID today or early next week, I understand it usually takes about a week from there for it to publish in the Fed. Reg. That puts the date at December 24, xmas eve. I will be out of the office Dec. 19- Jan. 5. Jesse, you will still be on your detail. Steve, will you be around that week to answer media questions?
